KENNEDALE HIGH SCHOOL

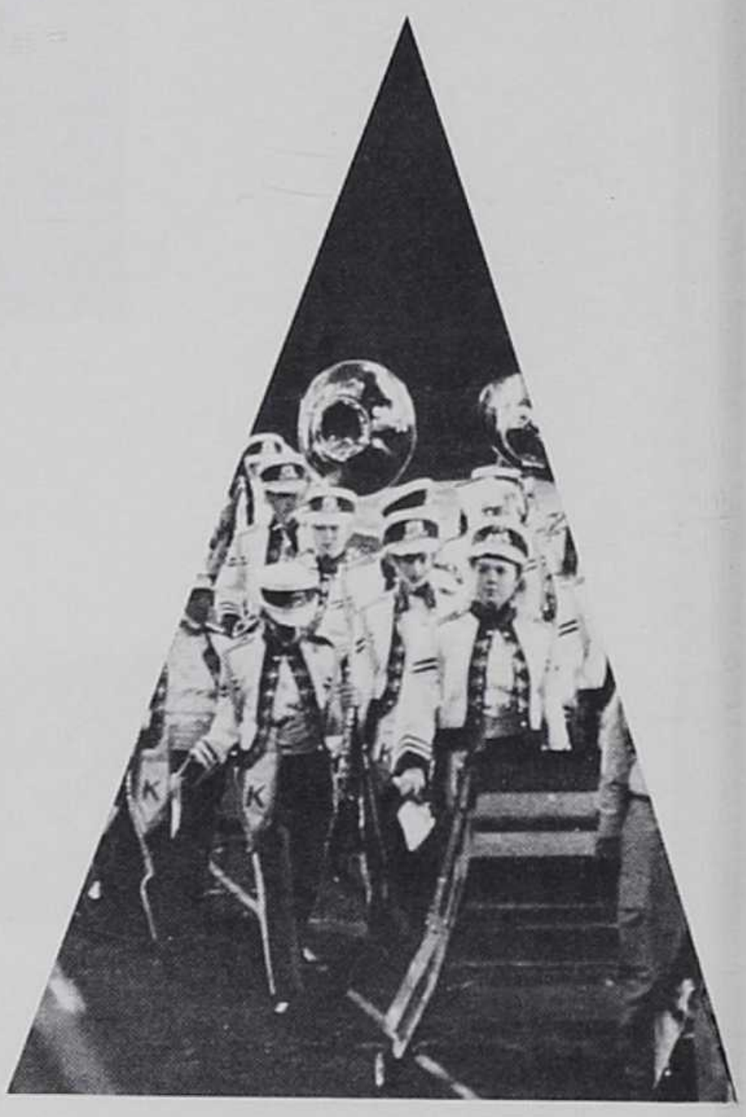

DIFFERENT PEOPLE - DIFFERENT SHAPES

Along with the changes in 1992-1993, came the shaping of an improved KHS. Including these changes were the new teachers, new landscaping, new athletic colors and uniforms, and the addition of new coaches. The upper-classmen experienced the privilege of having off-campus lunch while seniors held their first "senior only" prom. Another change in KHS was the expansion and improvement of the drama department with their new equipment, plays, and teacher. Other minor improvements were the pep rally format, a mural in the cafeteria (complements of the art club) and a teaching program for the TAFE club. We hope that you look through these pages with many fond memories of the changes and even traditions of Kennedale High School.

After School Jobs

The Shape Of The Dollar

In Kennedale, many places offer work to the students of the community. Some working wildcats enter Arlington to seek their employment.

Mr. Easley's ICT program allows students to go to school half a day and work half a day. In addition to trade work, food service has been a very popular selection. Cafe Acapolco and Cheddars are all home to Kennedale students. In fast food, Grandy's, Taco Bueno, Jack-N-the-Box, Mama's pizza, and Little Caesars all have Kennedale employees. Some grocery stores employ Wildcats. On the other hand, other students prefer the entertaining atmosphere of Six Flags.

Of course, freshman aren't to be left out. They can always babysit and mow lawns!

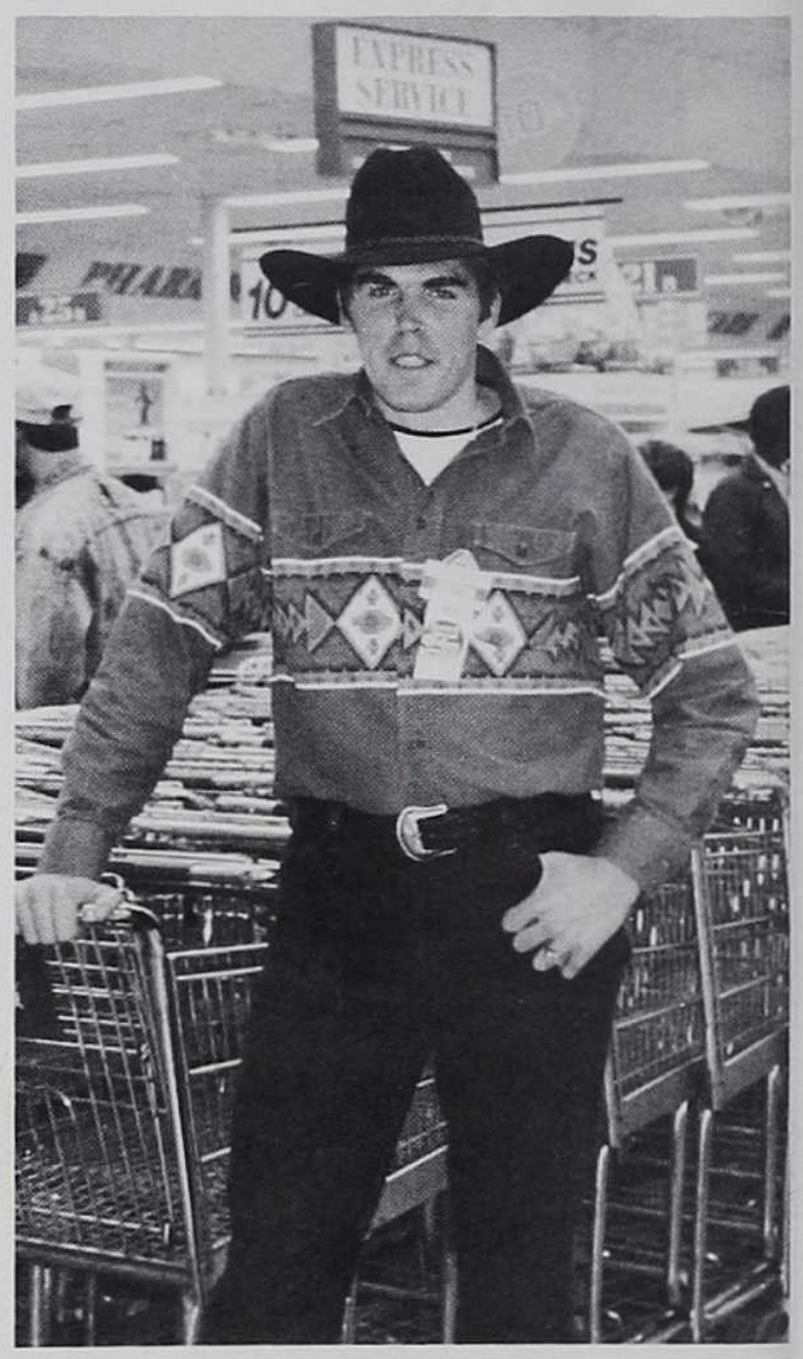

Nevertheless, KHS students find a way to earn money.

Vickie Moniz earns her money at Eckerd's as a cashier.

Valerie Clinger enjoys her job at Pizza Inn. (or is she faking it?)

Right: Justin Owens is very proud of his work at Albertsons

FASHION

Along with the change of school years, also comes the change of fashion at KHS. Fashion, as described by Mr. Webster means "the prevailing style during a particular time." Many different styles and trends have been set at KHS during the 92-93 school year. Check'em out:

Left- Jessica likes the bows and flower look.

Right- Travis sports the starter jacket with the baseball hat.

The cross dressers flaunt their lovely style.

Mark shows that baggy clothes are both in fashion and comfortable.

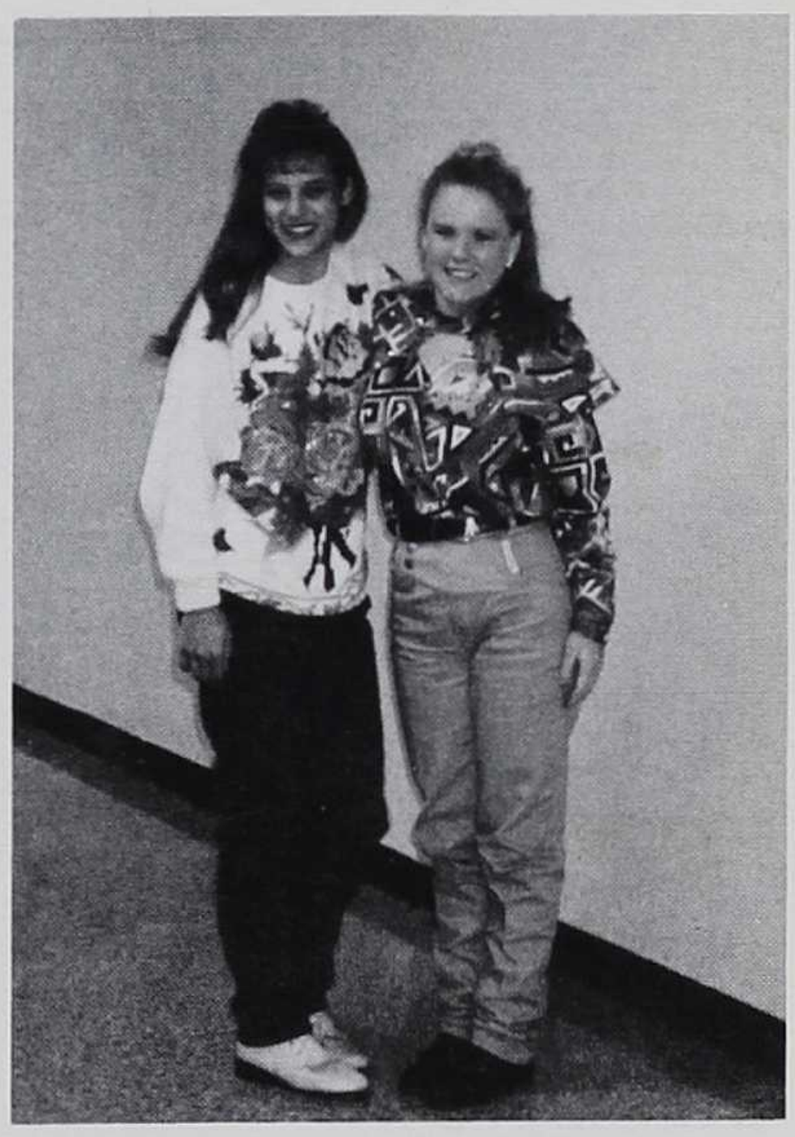

Clint likes the torn jeans and leather jacket look.

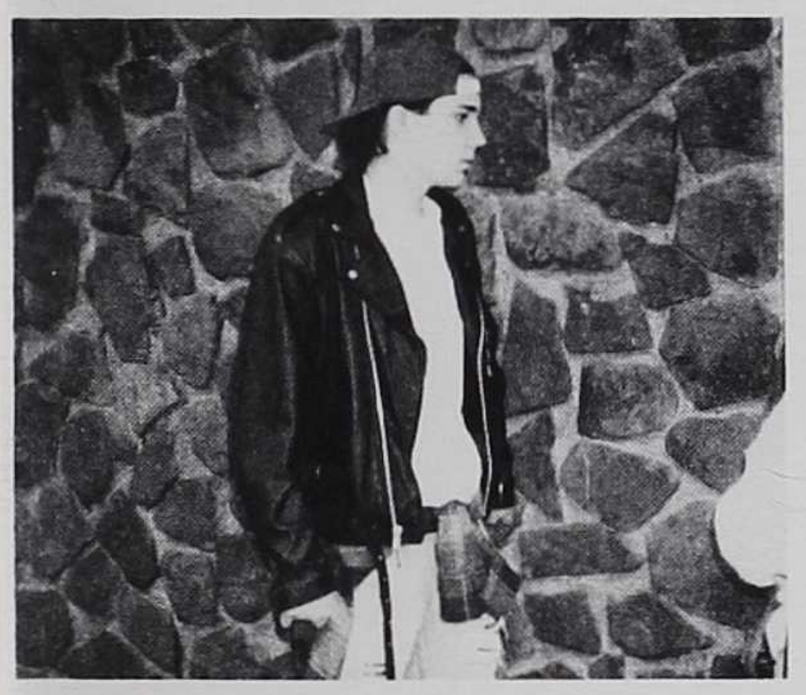

The Nike Air seems to be a very popular fad at KHS.

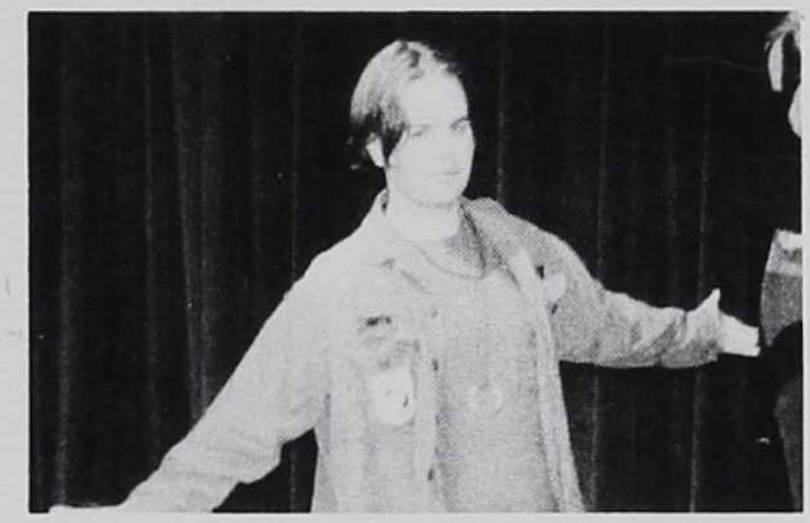

David is proud of his comfortable look.

These two cowgirls, Angela and Kandi, sport the fad of rockies and boots.

Pep Rallies

Pepping Up

When you think of Wildcat Football, you are reminded of many things. Pep rallies are one of those things that students think of the most. For instance, who could forget Sam Riley's incident with a lifesaver and powdered sugar. Could this be Freshmen orientation? Also, the time the Football Team dressed up as cheerleaders and surprised us all. Last but not least the final pep rally recognizing the seniors won't be forgotten.

Jodie shows her bravery on top of the Wildcat pyramid.

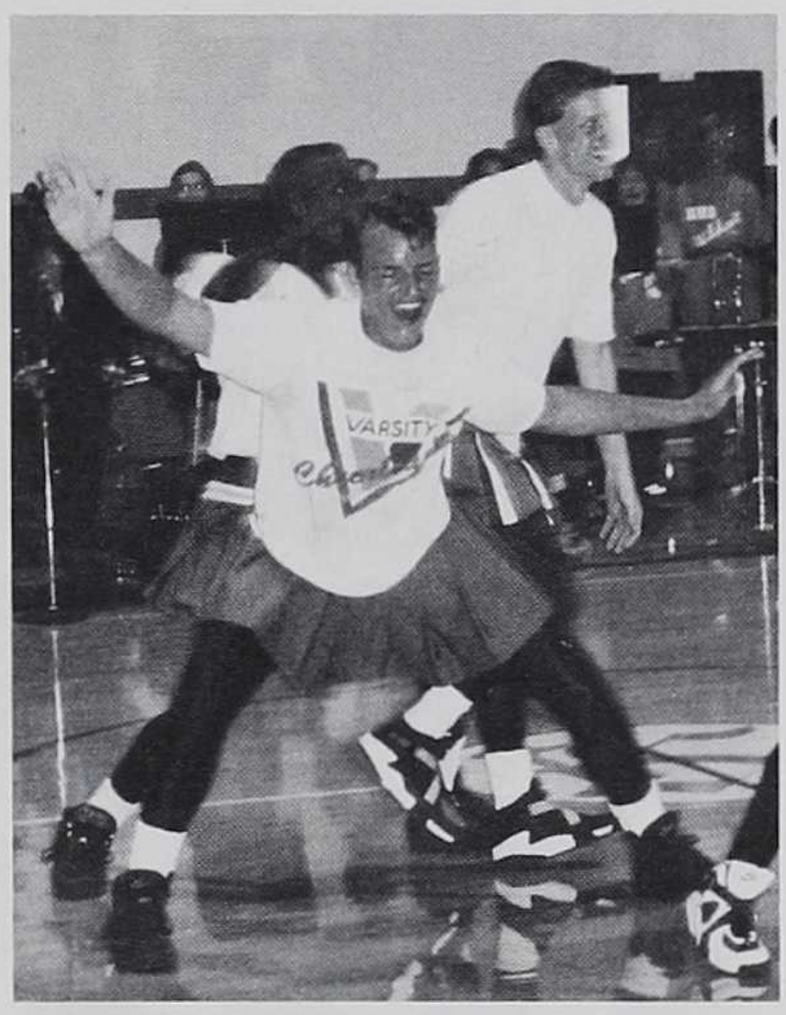

Doug's real personality shows through at this pep rally.

Dom displays his great trumpet tunes.

Jarod looks excited with his new position on the squad.

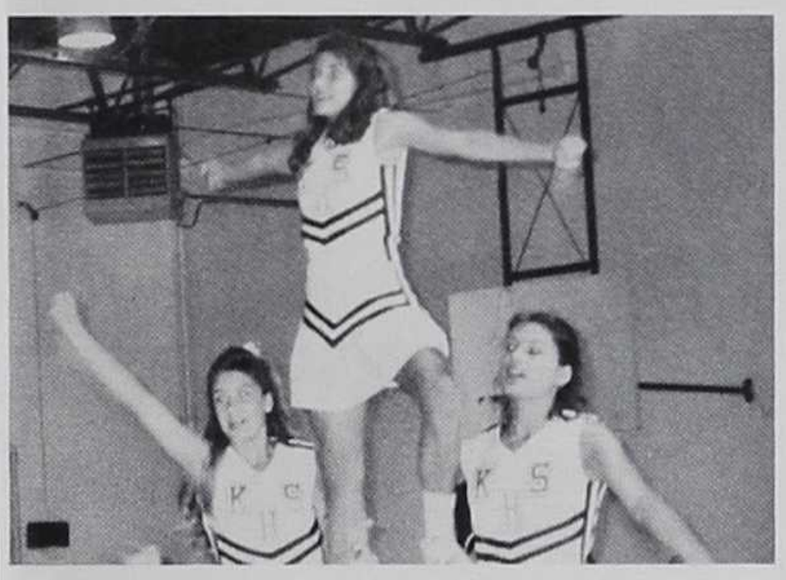

Sam Riley found more than a lifesaver; taste good Sam?

The Lady Kats pep up for the upcoming game.

The Pazzazz Flag Corp. performs with the band.

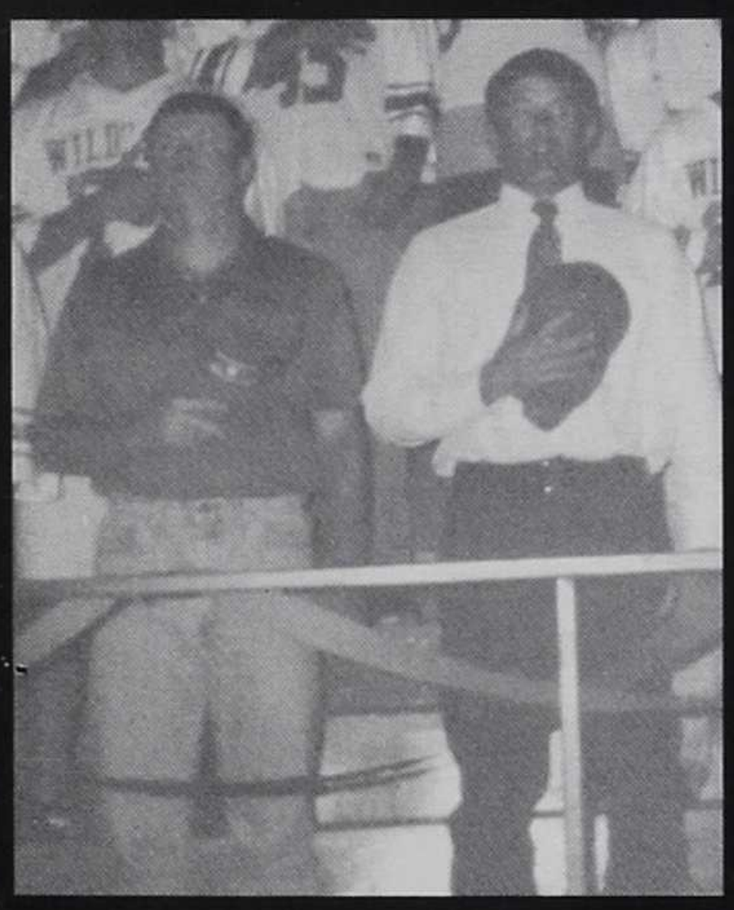

Maranda, Melissa, and Erica show J.V. strength and pride

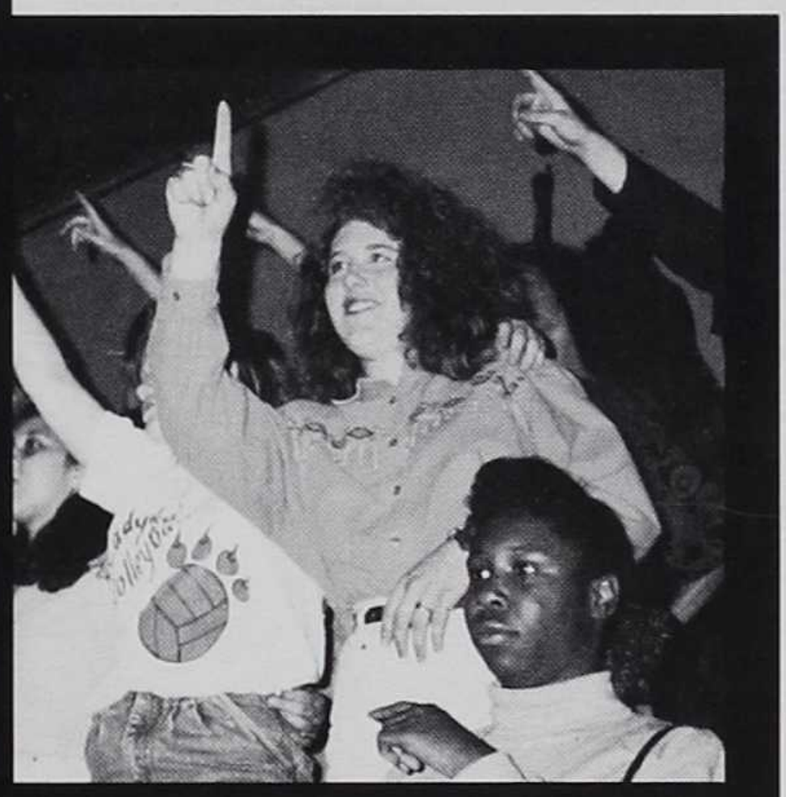

Seniors have better things to do than listen to fish.

Coaches Milsap and Smally show patriotism to our flag

Michelle sings as Willona points the wrong way.

The Sophomores show their wildcat pride.

Mike calmly directs the Mighty KHS band.

HOMECOMING 1992

Homecoming 1992 was a week filled with spirit, hard work, and anticipation for a battle against the Crandall Pirates. On Thursday, October 1, the night before homecoming, many students decorated the school. Each hall had a different theme. Contests were held such as the penny campaign, (which the juniors won), the spirit chain, (which the sophomores won), and of course the spirit stick which was awarded to the seniors. During the pep rally, all eyes were on Mrs. Horton awaiting the announcement of the king. A roar rose in the stands as David Clinger was crowned the 92 King. The cheerleaders encircled the new royalty while singing "Unchained Melody" in tribute.

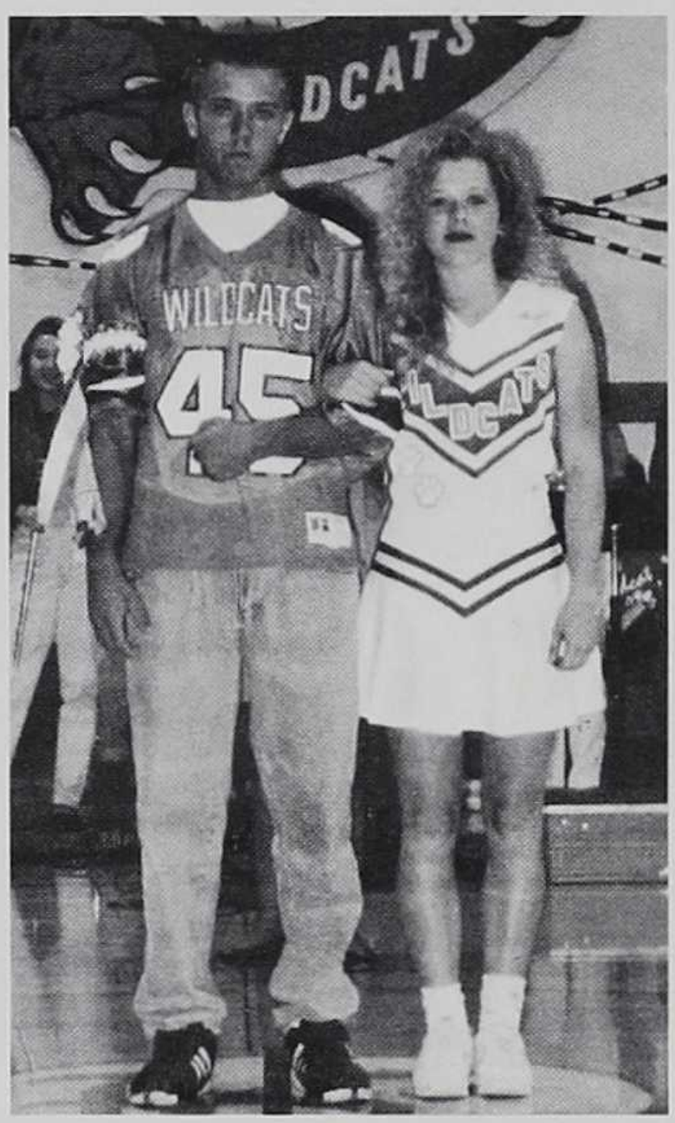

Senior Susan Jones looks excited about the days events.

A TIME TO BE REMEMBERED

"I WAS THRILLED! THIS WAS QUITE AN HONOR!" -HEATHER DUNAVIN

Homecoming evening was a memorable event for all. The Varsity team gave 100% effort but fell short to the Pirates. The 1992 court of lovely ladies consisted of freshman Candice Elmore, sophomore Angie Waldrop, junior LeAnn McElvaney, and seniors Heather Dunavin, Stephanie Buyers, and Valerie Clinger. The band played as the three seniors waited nervously for their halftime presentation. The moment finally came to announce the new 1992 Queen. The 91 Queen, Courtney Barnes, waited patiently to crown the new royalty. All eyes were on the field as Mr. Easley announced the name of "Heather Dunavin, Homecoming Queen!" Tears filled her eyes as the crowd applauded.

The trophy case was creatively decorated by Oliver Hooser.

The band performs a Homecoming halftime show with pride.

A Knight Of Royalty- Sr. Prom 1993

Valerie Clinger And Oliver Hooser Crowned The Royal Couple.

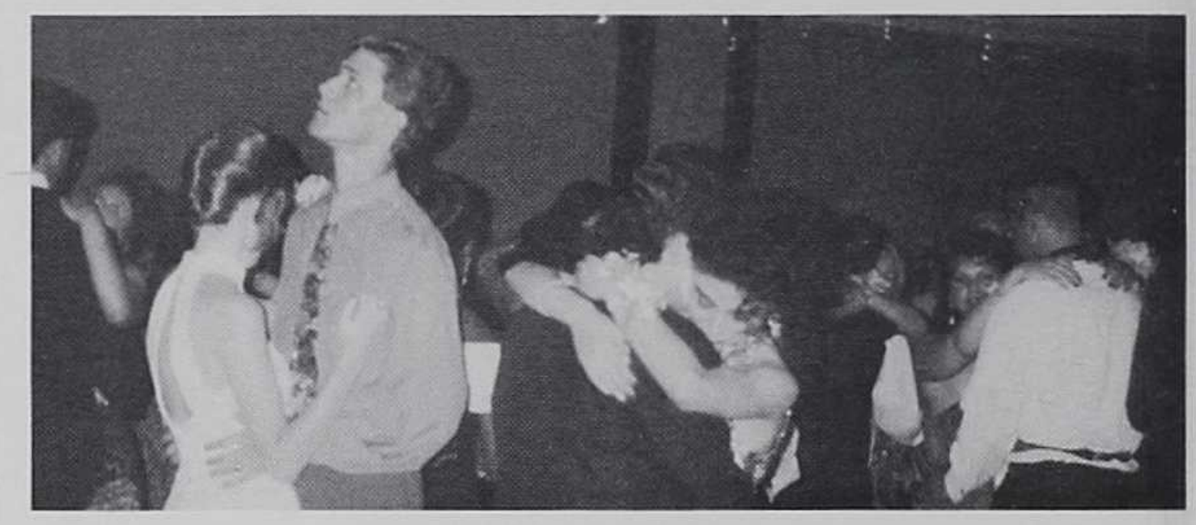

The 1993 prom was the first ever senior-only prom. The theme, "A Knight of Royalty", is exactly what it was. Upon arriving, a red carpet welcomed you into a dark, candle-lit room. A huge castle adorned the entry way and crowns decorated each table. A buffet table served a variety of foods and the D.J. played various songs. The toastmistress and toastmaster of the evening were Heather Dunavin and Matt Wright.

After a little eating and dancing, the ceremony began with the reading of the wills followed by a slide show. Finally, the announcing of the prom King and Queen arrived and Oliver Hooser and Valerie Clinger proudly came forward to be crowned. The senior song, "This Used To Be My Playground," played while many seniors realized this was one of the last times they would be together.

Graduation 1993 was a memorable event for all in attendance. The largest dollar amount of college scholarships in the history of KHS were received by Kennedale Seniors. Salutatorian Jacquelyn Flynt left the seniors with her words "let's move forward" which followed her humorous and encouraging speech. Valedictorian Michael Pinkerton gave all words to digest and turn over in one's mind when he said " the gift of life has been granted, but what are we going to do with it?" The seniors left the Arlington Christian Center on Bardin Road as friends, but no longer as classmates.

Does this look like a class that's about to graduate?

Class of...94

The Junior Class got off on the fundraising trail with a blaze in the fall of '92 by sponsoring Kennedale's first school dance after a home football game. By Homecoming the Juniors had gotten out their war paint to color the faces of the fans the famous Wildcat green. Around Christmas candy became a tactic for holiday bank accounts. The class unified for a brief two weeks in the effort to win the annual penny race despite some claims of unfair practices by some classes. The cooperation needed to produce winning fundraisers was lost in the spring and the students divided on the issue of whether or not they wanted to have a Senior Prom. The sponsors and the students hope for unity in the Senior year.

The sophomores got to take the exit level TAAS test for the first time. Teachers have been preparing their students all year for this test.

The class of '95 successfully survived another year of fundraising and freshman bashing. "I didn't pick on them too much, but when I did I loved it", stated Stormy Patton. "It was really neat to dish out what we took in last year", commented Kim Miller. Trisha Tunnell added, "Thanks to the freshman, I never had to take my tray when I was finished eating." As you can see, the sophomore class worked hard to intimidate younger peers.

This class looks a little stressed out from writing all those essays!

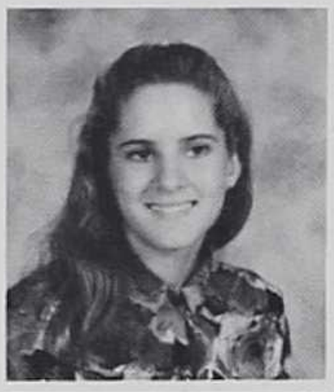

"One down and three more to go and then maybe we'll be seniors", says Alicia Acker and Casey Winters. "Is it over yet?"

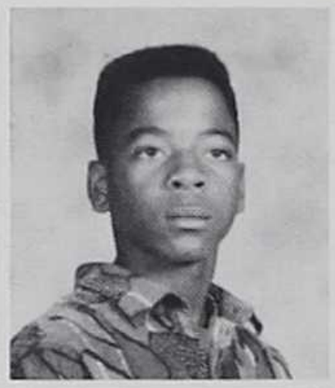

The fish were already looking toward the future but hated the thought about more responsibility. The fish decided that fundraisers for graduation and prom, were a flop and that charging dues was the way to go! The year brought many new memories for everyone, but it seems that everyone is looking forward to not being a fish!

The Kennedale School board held meetings every second Thursday of each month in the Primary School Cafeteria. They discussed, among other topics, the building and completion of the primary gymnasium, beginning a girl's softball team at the high school level, and the play "Carriers" proposed by the Principal's Council of the high school. The school board proved this year to be greatly concerned about its students and the community by basing decisions on knowledge, research, and the welfare of all concerned.

Cross Country '92

It will make you sweat!

The cross country team of 92'93 had an exciting and fulfilling season. Starting off with a rough team, Coach Lenzmeier transformed five boys and girls into district class runners. Bringing home a district-runner-up title, the girls' team managed to letter 3 of 5 runners and advance to regionals. The boys, as a team, didn't advance to regionals, but Fransisco Rico did. Running strong at regionals, the girls and Rico set a good name for KHS in cross country.

J.V. Cheerleading
Shaping The Spirit Of The Wildcats

Catching the spirit of the J.V. Cheerleaders isn't a hard task. On the other hand, emitting all that spirit is more difficult than most think.

This year's squad has put forth a tremendous effort. They have worked to achieve a sense of unity and pride; which are two things that must be evident to lead a crowd in cheers.

With all this spirit, these eight girls have accomplished a lot. During the first half of the season, they managed to cheer for two games in one night. They also assisted Varsity at Homecoming and pep rallies.

Throughout the year, this squad showed their dedication and pride with dynamic cheerleading ability.

Varsity Cheerleading

Look What Was New In Ninety-two

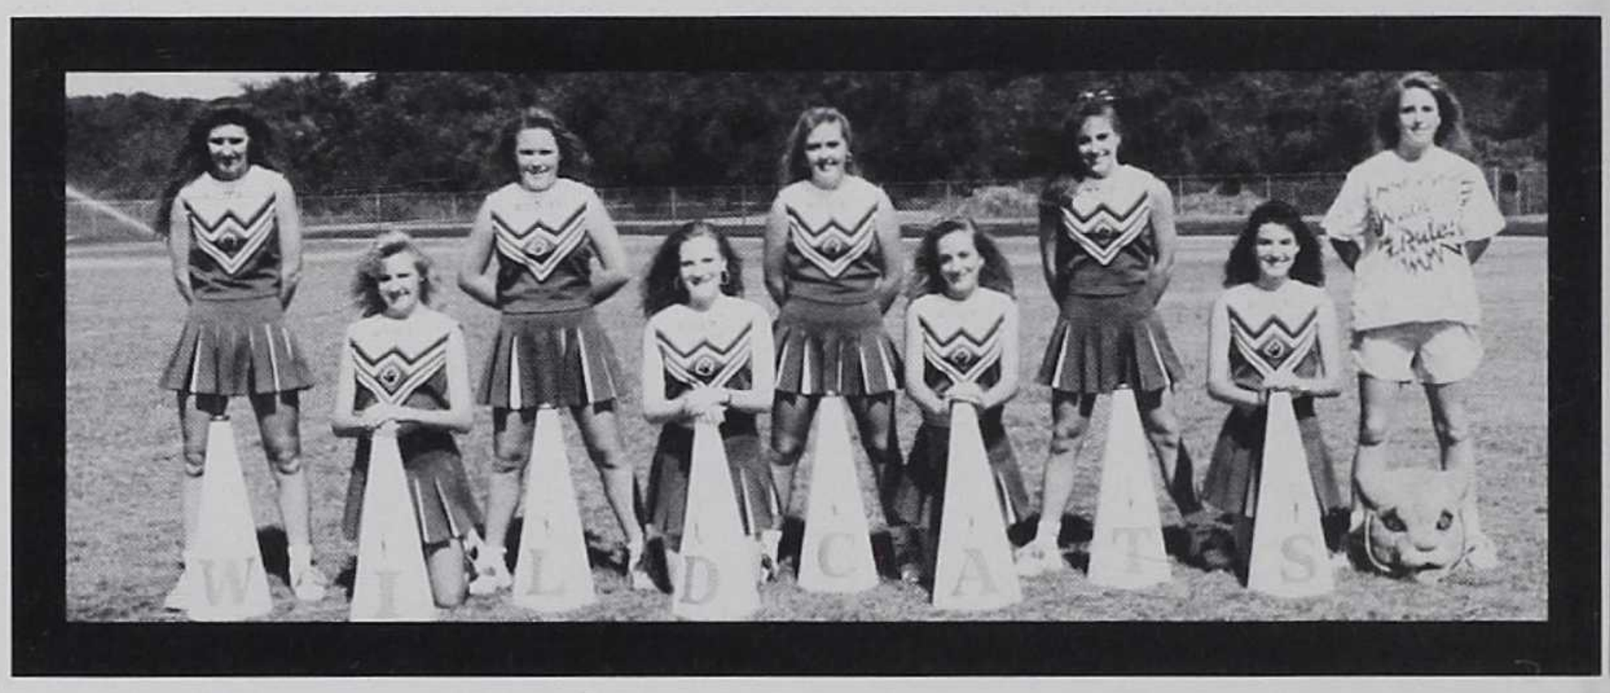

This year the Varsity Cheerleaders experienced many changes.

First off, they received a new sponsor, Ginger Hall. Being her first year, Ms. Hall feels "they taught me more than I taught them." All the girls truly enjoyed Ms. Hall's assistance.

Perhaps the most controversial change is the recognition of cheerleading as a sport. In past yearbooks, cheerleading was classified as an organization. In this annual, it is considered a sport. When asked how she felt about the issue, Ms. Hall answered "They are athletes. A lot of hard work goes into wearing that little short skirt."

Possibly the biggest change for this squad is the expansion of the cheering season. Beginning this year, the Varsity boys basketball games were enhanced by the cheers of this spirited crew.

It is evident, through many aspects, that our cheerleaders are dedicated athletes. Congratulations girls on a job well done.

Junior Varsity And Freshman Football

The Wildcats began the football season with a large Freshman team, and a solid group of Junior Varsity boys. However, tragedies occurred to relinquish the existence of the Freshman squad, joining their forces with the older boys to create a single J.V. grouping. The boys played tough throughout the season, and proved themselves to be a worthy clan of gridiron athletes.

Coaches Smalley and Teague discuss their next strategy.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

CHANGING THE SHAPE THE WILDCAT WAY

The shape of K.H.S. is changing and perhaps the least obvious but largest difference is the Varsity football team.

For Coach Smalley, Remembering back to the '92 season wasn't difficult. "Alvarado for a chance at the playoffs" answers Smalley, when asked about the highlight game of the season. Next, without hesitation he recalls the most memorable play, Michael's (Trammell) 99.6 yard touchdown.

While comparing the district and non-district records, a major change is evident. Smalley feels this change occurred during the 2nd half of the Crandall game. "I remember the official saying that Crandall wanted to run up the score just to embarrass K.H.S . . . apparently this had a major effect on the team since they shut Crandall out in the 2nd half. With changed attitudes, players set out on a mission to finish on a good note. Third in district was the result.

The number one goal of the team is to "do the best they can." With this attitude and fan support "WE WILL WIN, It is OUR football team . . . feel some pride in that."

When asked what we call them; people respond with WILDCATS!

Fall Banquet

Striving Toward Perfection

The Fall Sports Banquet this year was a success. With great food and atmosphere the evening was a smash hit!

Recognition was given to outstanding athletes, cheerleaders, coaches, and sponsors. Each team got their moment in the spotlight. First, the Varsity had lots of talented individuals who received first and second awards. Next, the J.V. team was presented for coming in second in district play. But the icing on the cake was the freshman volleyball team for taking first place in district.

As the evening came to a close, the coaches and sponsors were given a heartfelt thanks of gratitude and appreciation. It was a great time to be Wildcat and be a part of such a strong athletic program. (Not pictured was Jaime Kirkpatrick for receiving second all-district team for volleyball.)

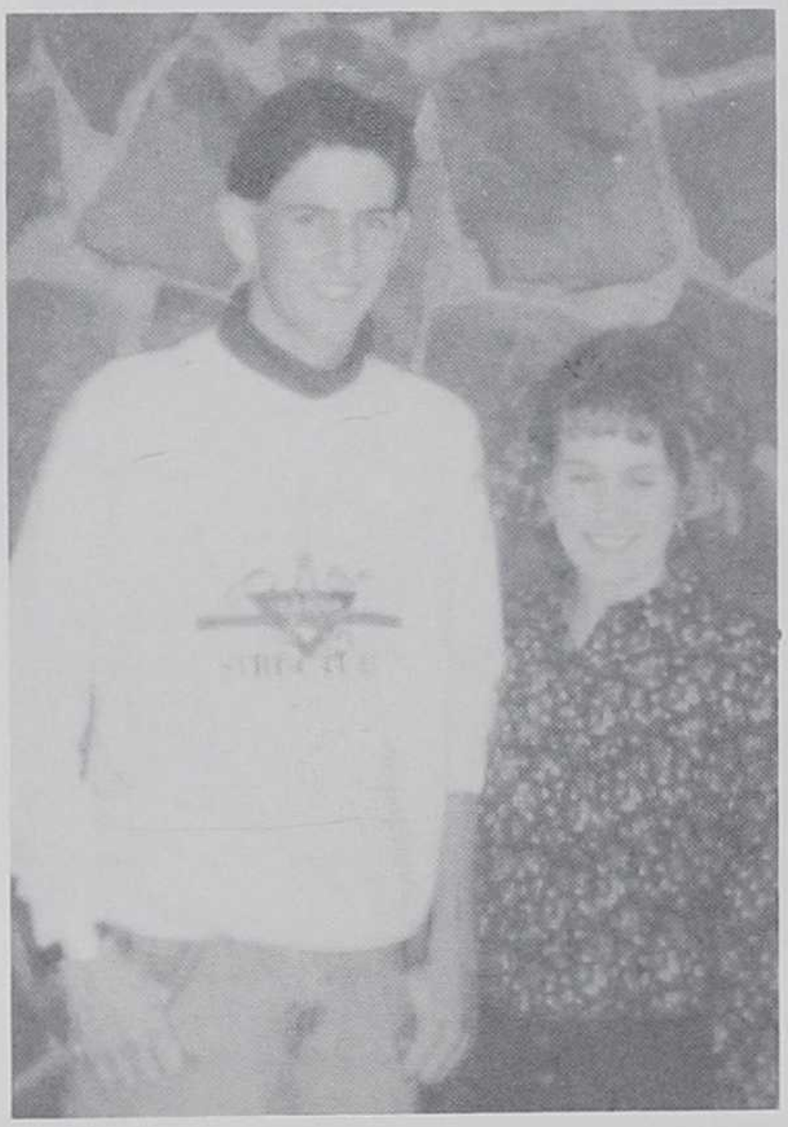

The extrodinary efforts from each player made for an outstanding year.

Brandon Knapp and Toby Poore received the Helmet award for the highest G.P.A.

Matt Wright and Stephanie Buyers were football sweetheart and volleyball beau.

Angela Richter, 1st all-district volleyball team.

Kristina Young, 2nd all-district volleyball team.

Candy Jones, 2nd all-district volleyball team.

Angela Richter received the MVP award.

Freshmen
Nothing Can Stop Us

Led by Coach Shane Perkins, the Freshmen made a commendable showing in the 1992-93 season. By sharpening their skills in ball handling, passing, and shooting, this outstanding group of athletes won the Rio Vista Junior Varsity tournament in an undefeated victory. "We had a good season, but we should have finished stronger" claimed forward, Chris Carter of the team's second place finish in district. The boy's teamwork on the court was outstanding as they experienced a unifying season, finishing with a 15-3 overall record.

J.V. Boys
Moving To The Top!

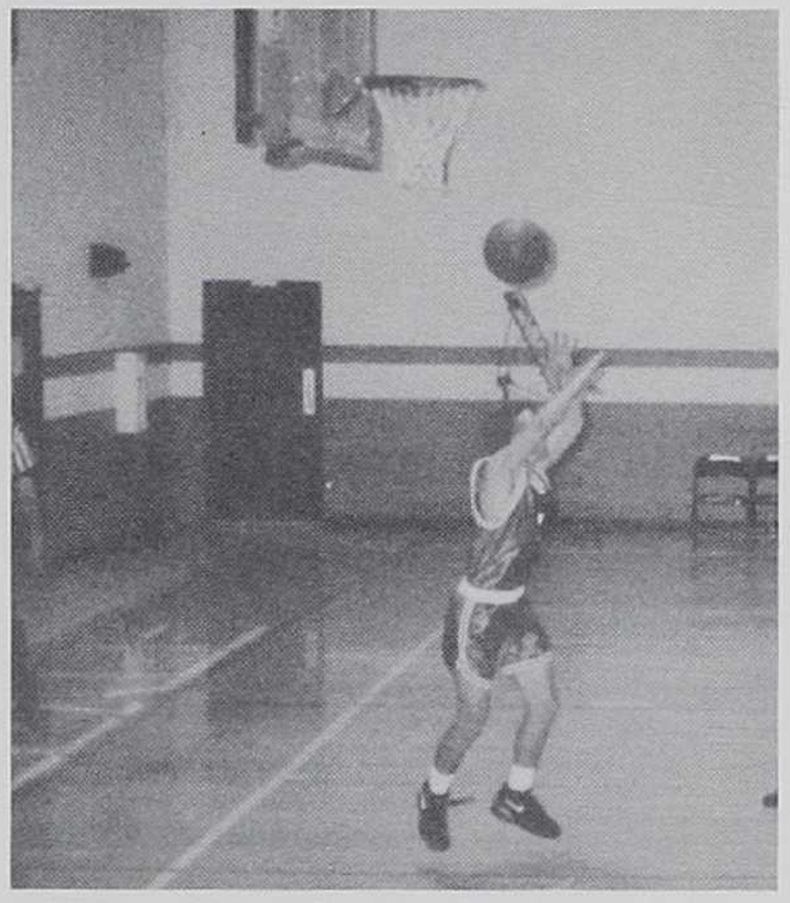

This season's J.V. team showed much improvement from the previous year. The players made the best of what they had and had fun doing it. Although the season got rough, the players never gave up. They worked hard from the beginning of the season in November until its finish in February. The Wildcats attributed their hard work to a love for the game and a self satisfaction of giving 100 percent. It appeared that good sportsmanship was accomplished as they left the court with heads held high in hopes of future games. Look forward to great plays made by these guys in the future.

Varsity Wildcats

"Excellence Is Never An Accident."

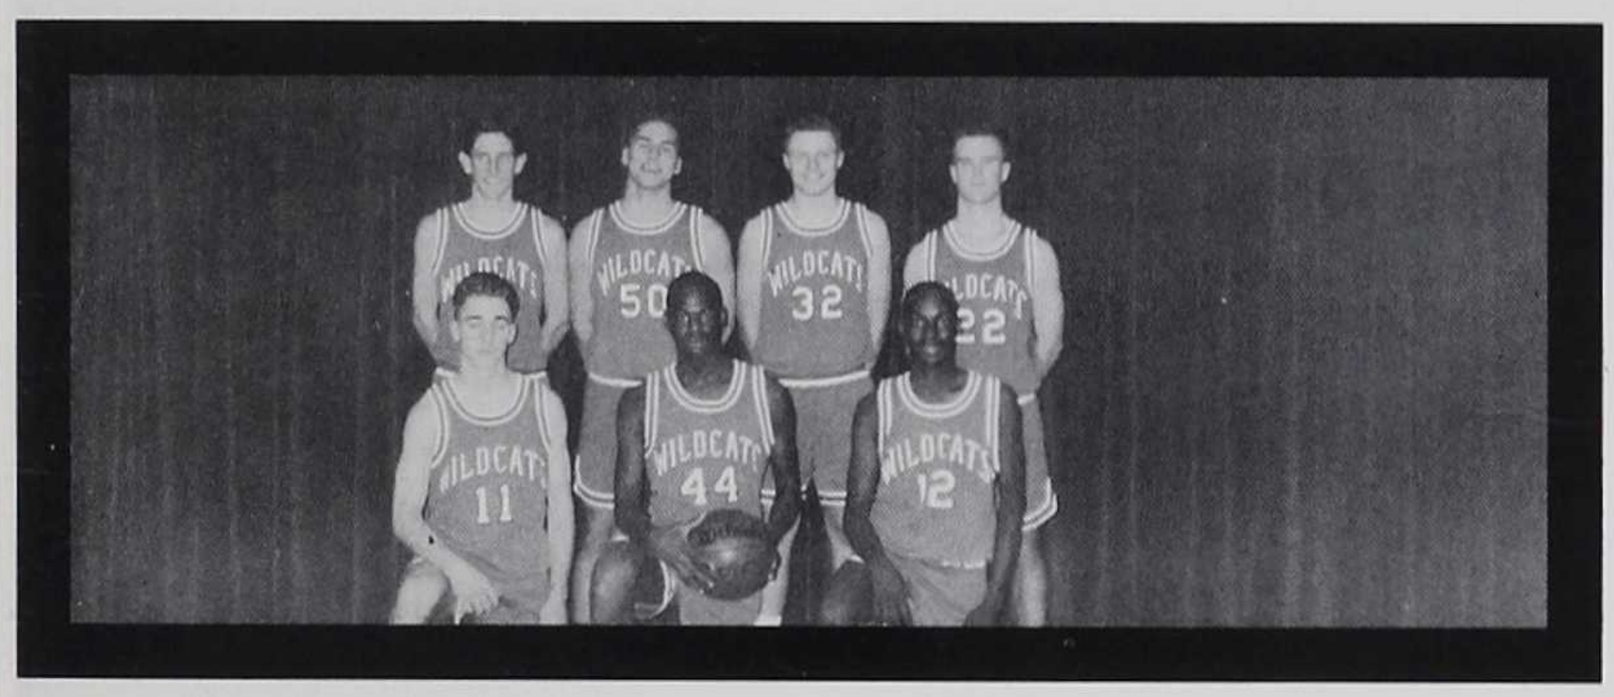

This year's varsity team experienced one of Kennedale's best seasons ever. They started off with a bang, winning many of their first games. Though they began to lose a few games the Wildcats did not give up and continued to play good basketball. Tournaments provided excellent practice and fierce competition to hone the round baller's skills. With team work and outstanding performances in clutch situations the team competed for district until the final game against Alvarado. As a result of hardwork and dedication, the Wildcats managed to win almost half of their games, creating a new foundation. The school should be far from disappointed with the play of the Varsity Wildcats for a future of winning seasons.

FRESHMEN!!

WON 2ND IN DISTRICT

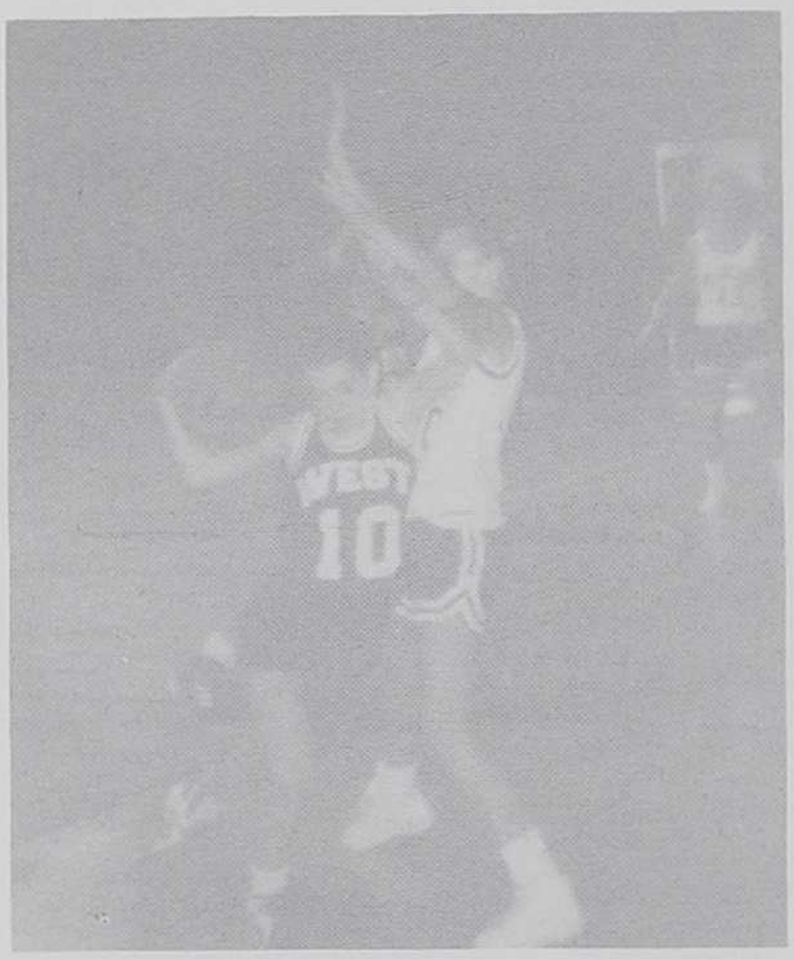

The Lady Kats finished as districts runners-up with an overall record of 17-3. Dynamic defense made them shine on the court game after game. Defensive steals tallied up to almost tie the amount of points. On offense, outstanding assists from Casey Winters aided in high-scoring efforts of Candice Elmore and Erica Smith, along with the highlight rebounding of Jamie Malone and Jennifer Gillaspy. Ginny Ferrill, Misty Freeman, and Jackie Spear stepped in the post position well, and grew stronger as the season progressed. Melinda Weeks proved to be a valuable asset to the squad, as did Sandra Rico. "These young ladies work hard, listen well, and have a strong desire to be winners on and off the court." commented Coach Elrod of her squad.

J.V. BASKETBALL

ON THEIR WAY TO VARSITY

The Junior Varsity squad was a close-knit group this season. Their spirits remained high despite a losing season. Terrific ball handling by Tiera Ford and Sarah Franklin contributed to the scoring efforts of Angie Waldrop and Cheryl Snyder. The rebounding of Nicole Lyon and Amanda Cash proved to be a great offensive and defensive asset. Stormy Patton and Lori Rainwater pushed the team onward with a positive role in this roundball unit. The efforts of these young ladies should be commended on and off of the court.

Varsity 1993 Rules
Do It! Move It! Make It Happen!

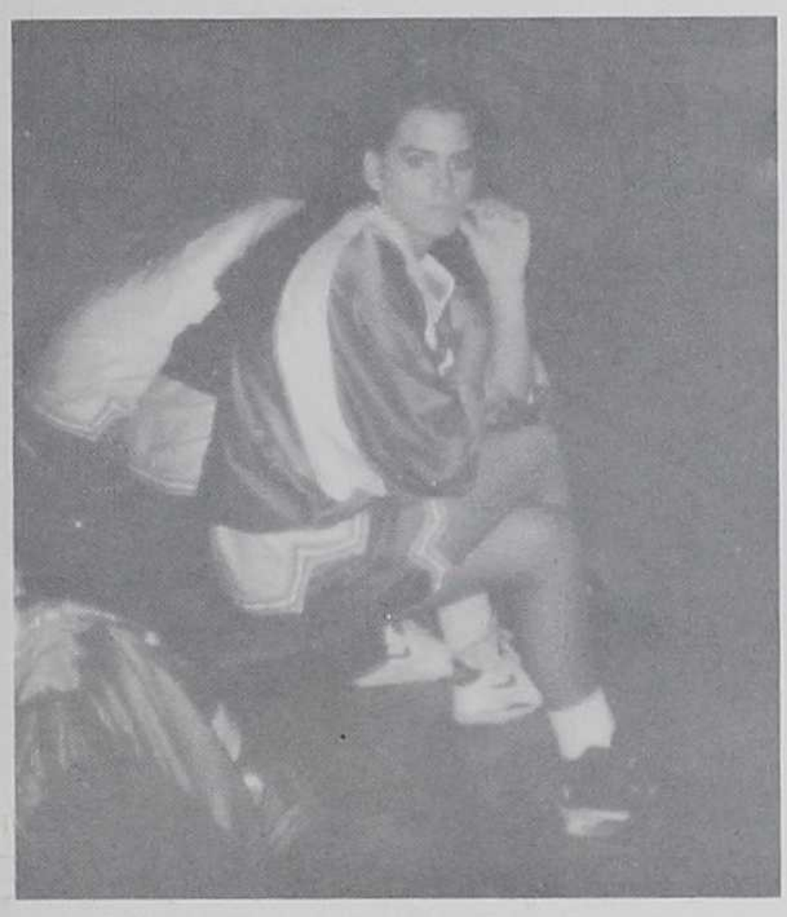

The 1992-93 season for the Lady Kats was a long, but memorable one. From their awesome, close wins, to their hurtful loses. Even though the record did not show the talent of the Lady Kats, they knew the extension of their abilities and will always remember this season. These ladies worked together as a team in each game with determination, but this sometimes was not enough to pull a victory. Through disillusioned eyes, games fell short and spirits dropped as the final game buzzer screamed the end of another season. To many, there was the thought of "next year", to others the thoughts of finality were overwhelming. The season proved to be a true experience for all involved.

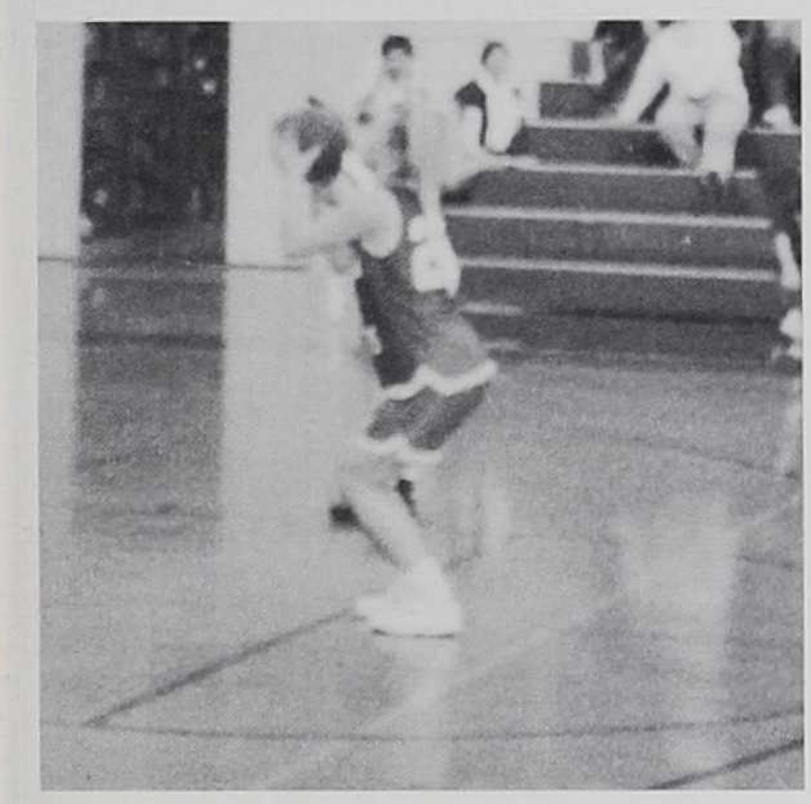

"Jaime is resembling the "Leaning Tower of Pisa".

Changing The Pace Of Things

The Lady Kat squad was a fairly young group in its 1993 season. Sporting only three seniors and no juniors, the team was completed with sophomores and freshmen. Lack of experience was a huge factor during heavy competition, but overwhelming excitement from this young squad gave great promise for the future. Stephanie Buyers, one of the team's seniors, made a change for the better this season competing in the 800m rather than the 1600m and the 3200m as in the past. She took her two-lap sprint to Regionals for a third place finish and became the first Lady Kat to go the State as an alternate.

Always On The Run

With Wildcat Track 1993

Wildcat track had a shining season. The Junior Varsity squad proved to hold much hope for upcoming Varsity competition with a second place finish in district play. The Varsity squad took four competitors to Regionals at East Texas State University, Josh Lasater in the shot put, C.J. Holder in the 800m, Sam Riley and Mike Trammell in the pole vault.

Seniors

Lasater competed in the shot put at Regionals 1993 and was a strong contributor to KHS track.

Melanie Winters

The K.H.S. golf team was a very successful team. Ellen H., Greg C., Jarod M., Chris C., Chris S., Melanie W., Jeff H., Travis P., and Shane D., were just a few of the awesome players on the 92-93 golf team. Out of all the players Melanie was the only one to letter. Travis and Shane livened the team up many times whether losing or winning. Coach Millsap helped with skills and we hope that next year's team will be bigger and better.

The tennis team surprised Kennedale High this year with their awesome strategies on the court. The Freshman players that had an outstanding year were Dane Southard and Lori Hooser. After many hard practices at TCJC the players had an awesome year. Ms. Dyer had a great year also working with all the returners and newcomers. This year is just a copy of what we want to happen next year, fun and happening.

Junior Varsity Baseball

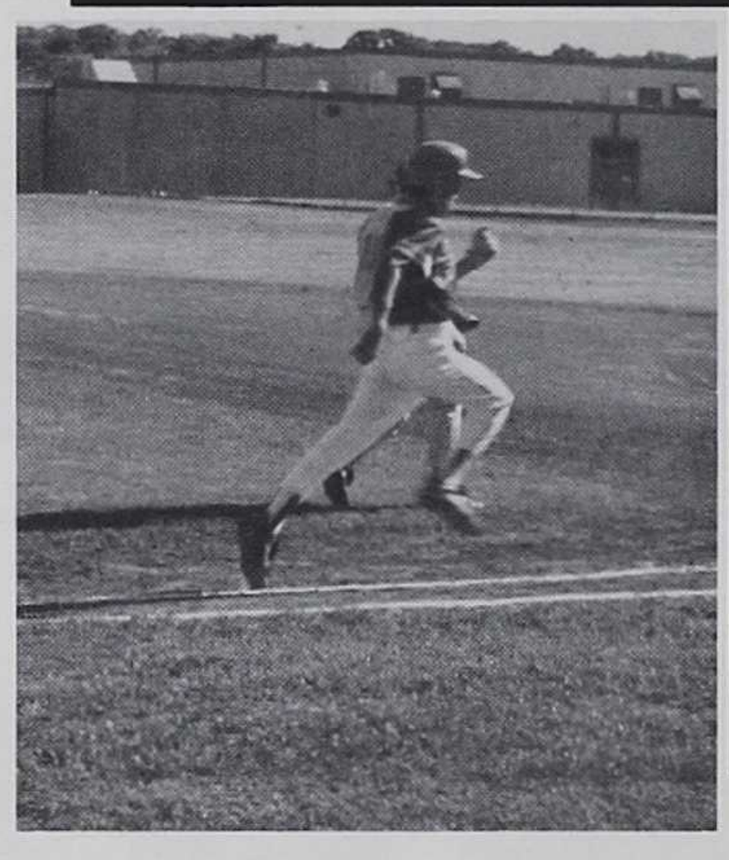

Shaping Up Baseball

Junior Varsity Baseball 1993 was interesting to say the least. With the arrival of newcomer Freshman Brian Hommel and Jeremy Ledbetter to join forces with 2nd year Sophomore players Kirby Neal and Beau Hester the season was deemed a success. Led by right handed pitcher Matt Disch, a freshman, the team members worked hard to achieve a 7-6 season record. Looking ahead to 1994.

Batting The Ball In The Right Direction

The 1993 Wildcat Varsity Baseball season didn't turn out like the team had hoped for. Their overall record was 9-9, with a district record of 3-7. Led by MVP Matt Wright, pitchers Cary Goss and Michael Trammell, and good defense by Rick Fritschle.

Coming up short for play-offs, the numerous underclassmen had a great learning experience. The 1994 season is looking bright for the Wildcats.

Spring Banquet

Changing The Shape Of Athletes.

The Varsity Baseball team was awarded for their excellence in baseball.

This year's spring banquet was a smash hit with all athletes, family, coaches, and friends. It all started off with awards given for all sports. Basketball was one of the many. In Varsity Basketball, Rick Fritschle was awarded with MVP. Girls basketball came a long way this year with Susan Wilson as Most Improved, Candy Jones MVP and a four year letterman, and Michelle Willis and Stephanie Buyers as Basketball Sweethearts. Next was baseball. Matt Wright was awarded with MVP for varsity. The baseball statisticians were given a rose and trophy in their thanks. Last but not least was track! Willona Lightfoot and Stephanie Buyers were awarded for being a four year letterman. Some of the athletes that went to regionals were Stephanie Buyers, Willona Lightfoot, Ginny Ferrill, Jamie Malone, C.J. Holder, Michael Trammell, Sam Riley, Josh Lasater. Stephanie was an alternate for State Comp. Only a few receive the opportunity of going to regionals; next year we will expect many more. Food was also a big hit. Hamburgers, chips and cokes were only a few of the things to eat. Many played basketball, volleyball, and Bochie to pass time.

This is really embarrassing are they finished yet.

My face is about to crack Susan, how about yours?

Candy Jones was a four year letterman and MVP in Varsity Basketball.

Stephanie Buyers was awarded as a basketball sweetheart.

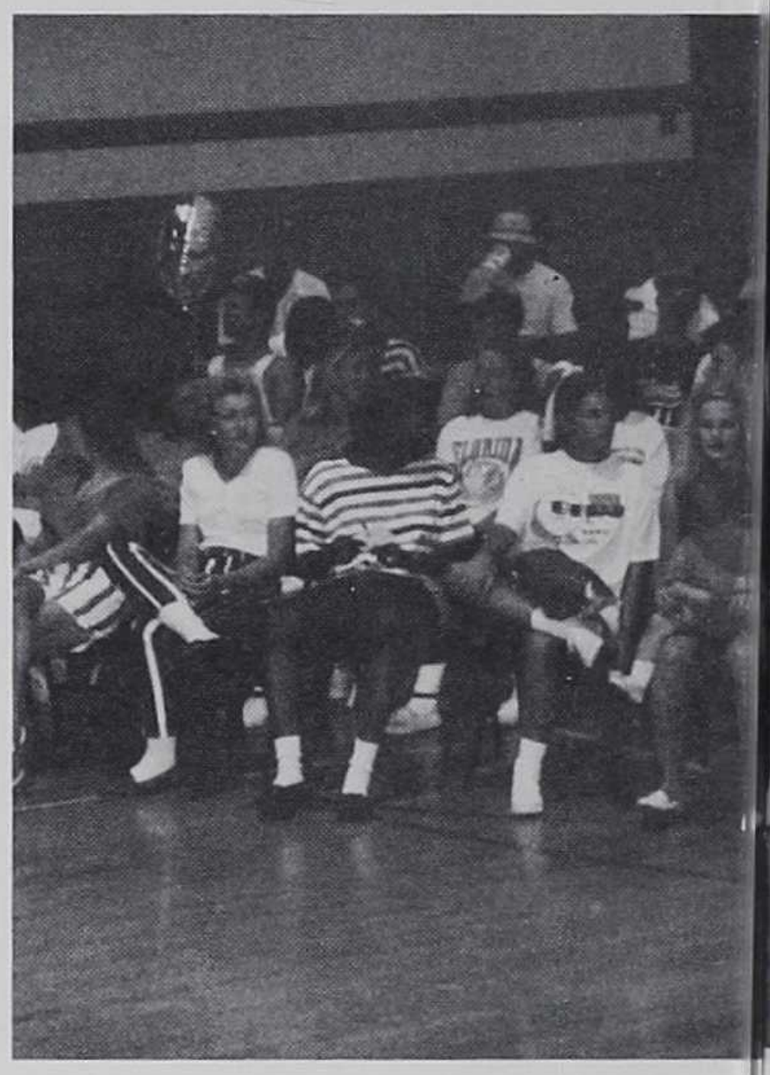

Michelle Willis was also a basketball sweetheart.

Susan was most improved in basketball this year.

Wildcat's Tale

Kennedale High School,
Kennedale, Texas

Our school newspaper, the Wildcat's Tale, seeks to both inform and entertain the student body with articles covering a broad range of topics. During the '92- '93 school year, for instance, the paper ran articles scoping everything from the tragedy in September, to the success of the local Fine Arts League, to reviews of Halloween movies for the faint hearted.

In recent years this publication has been recognized by UIL's Interscholastic League Press Conference. Winning the second highest rating given by the conference has given our young staff pride, pressure, and promise. Only 5 other 3A schools in the state earned the Award of Achievement.

Published monthly whenever funds permit, the Wildcat's Tale is self-supporting. Advertisements, contributions from individuals, and sales of the paper itself pay for the cost of printing.

Staff members are usually juniors and seniors who are above average in English. In order to be on the staff, a student needs teacher recommendation and sponsor approval. In addition, they must be enrolled in the journalism class.

THE WILDCAT TRACK

All the yearbook staff members contributed very much in making the theme "Changing the Shape of things" come true.

The 1992-93 yearbook staff has truly lived up to this years theme of "Changing the Shape of things". Changes in format, style, and staff personnel, have blended well to create a book full of memories for the entire student body. This year's staff has created a foundation of strong guidelines for future reference. The entire staff, in combination with the newspaper crew, make up a club entitled "Quill and Scroll" which is a chartered journalism club exemplifying the writing talents of each member.

Drama

Students Shaping Into Actors

The drama department, under the direction of Mrs. Wallis, was quite busy this year. Their first play, Dracula, was presented in October when the movie came out. The Christmas season kept our actors and actresses busy as well. Mrs. Wallis' 2nd period class presented The Baddest Angel Band while her 3rd period class performed a pantomime to 'Twas the Night Before Christmas. Drama's UIL participants performed A Young Lady of Property. Certainly the most talked about and long awaited was the play Carriers. This play was excellent in educating the students about AIDS and fit into the theme of AIDS AWARENESS WEEK. Along with developing outstanding actors and actresses, Mrs. Wallis has improved the department by painting the stage, buying light trees, and making the Kennedale drama department known and respected in the school and community.

The Wildcat on the cafeteria wall painted by the advanced art class: What skill!

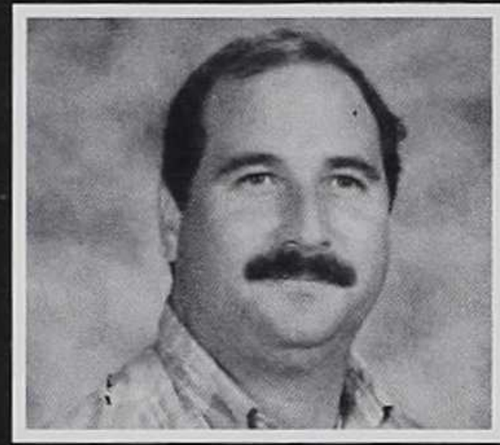

ART

The advanced art class took on a monumental task of painting a mural in our school's cafeteria. The image was designed by Joe Wampole and Jason Newcomb. The advanced art class did the sketching and the painting of the mural. The image shows the power of the Wildcat ripping through a boring gray wall and revealing the K.H.S. school pride. We plan on more murals throughout the future.

Tune Up

With The KHS Band

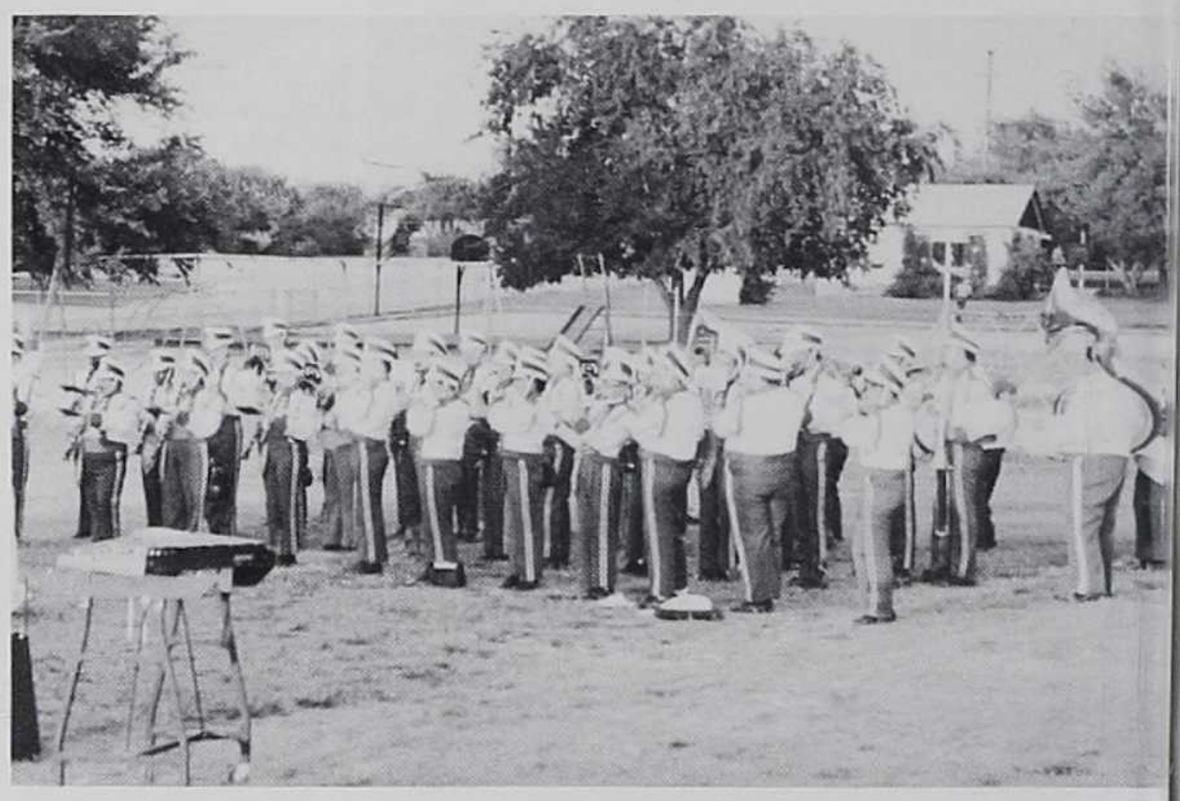

The Kennedale High School Band had a very busy year for the 1992-1993 season. The Jazz Band not only reached the largest number of students, but gave the best performances of the jazz band history. Both sections had the largest number of students in the KHS history. The jazz band had a lot of practices, including some on their own time. Jazz band also performed at the Annual Chile Auction. When asked Mr. Danheim said "I am very proud of these students, they work very hard and deserve a lot of recognition for their desire to learn." This year's Drum Major was Micheal Pinkerton. Dannheim said "I could not have done it this year without his helping hand." The KHS band was the best it has ever been this year and we look forward to seeing the Wildcat Band bigger and better next year.

The 1992-1993 KHS Pizzazz Show Choir

Kennedale High Choir & Pizzazz

Shaping Up The Sound

The Kennedale Wildcat Choir

The Kennedale High School choir and pizzazz had a hot year. Of course, this had nothing at all to do with the fact that they went to the Bahamas and Walt Disney World. "Lareta Bridges says I couldn't wait until the day we went." Then Holly Chappell added "that's how I felt until I got sea sick, then I couldn't wait to get back home." Over all, everyone had a good time (even those who got sick on the ship.) Mrs. Seelye was very proud of the choir and pizzazz. They had a wonderful experience to be able to sing in "Sing America." people said it would be hard to top off going to New York, but some how Mrs. Seelye found a way. The school look's forward to seeing where the next choir trip will be.

Do these sopranos know how to sing and smile, or what?

Are these Pizzazz members asleep?

VICA is a leadership organ. that all students who are enrolled in trade technical and health occupations prog. are eligible. Students enrolled in VICA compete with other students at local district state national and in some cases international levels: VICA, local and state competition. National officers are Jason C., Evon C., Amy M., Steve H., Annabelle G., Sam Y., and Cristi C.

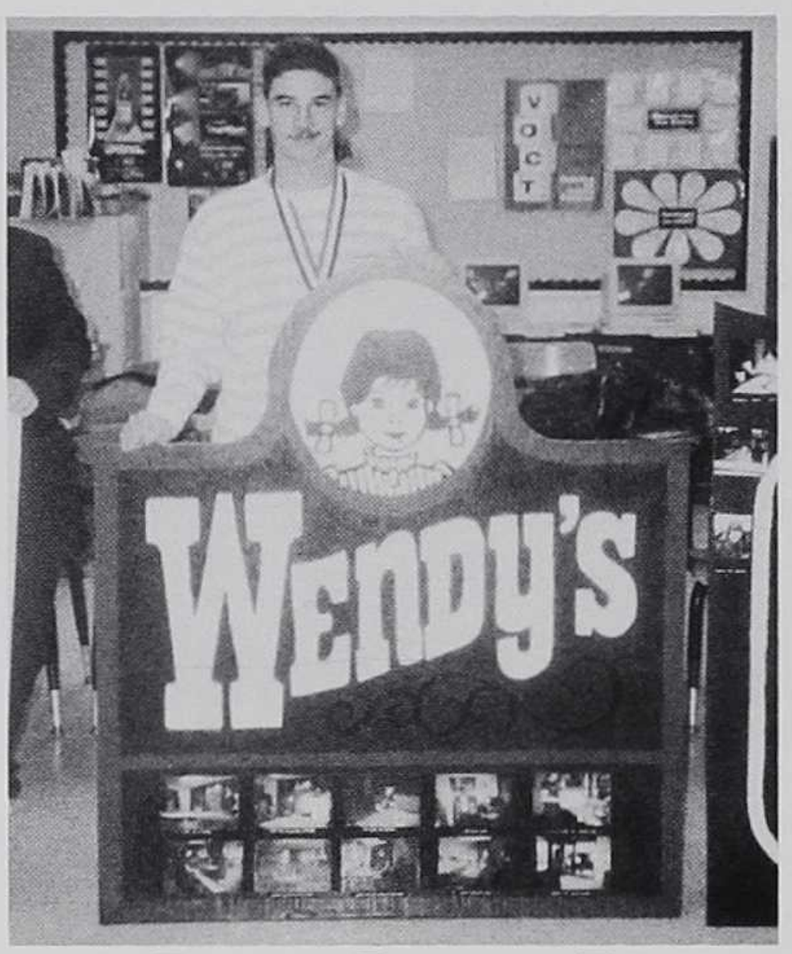

This was the last year for Vocational Opportunities Clubs of Texas. VOCT has participated in many leadership contests. The officers are Tommy, Dy, Kristy, Candy, Michelle, Charles, Andrea and James. The group has helped in doing opening and closing ceremonies and club business procedure in competition. Three students will be going to competition for photo panels.

The construction careers class is an introduction to construction. There are six areas that are covered in depth. Those areas include: carpentry-cabinet making, plumbing-pipe fitting, air conditioning-refrigeration, painting-decorating, electricity and concrete-brick laying. The construction careers students have also participated in the restoration of break lounge, port. building, bookshelves, cabinets, and other items.

SADD

S.A.D.D. / Friends for Life began the year with sponsoring a very successful lock-in. The proceeds were used to set up a Vocational-Technical Scholarship Fund. Our chapter of SADD chose a club motto of Friends for Life. The students and sponsors worked to emphasis the value of life without using alcohol or drugs. In April, they participated in the Chili Auction. Their booth was for fun while earning a little money. Profits from this and their annual car washes were used to finance a reception to honor the seniors at graduation.

In Memory Of

Daniel Hodges And Gabriel Warren

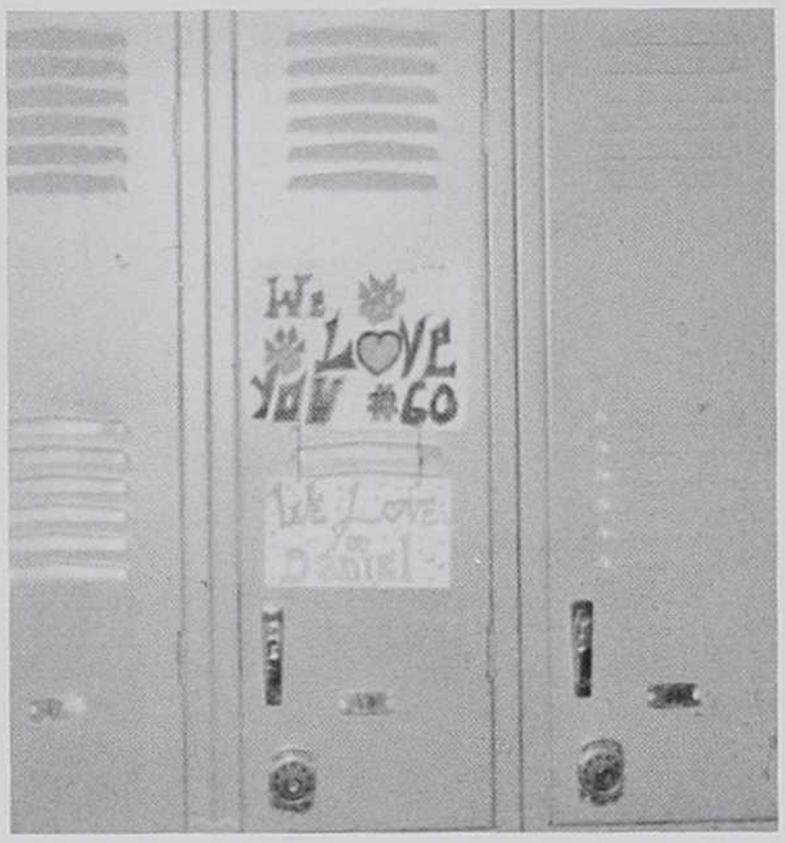

To see the end appear so fast,
And the lives so dear no more.
To understand is hard to grasp,
As the tears fall to the floor.
Machinery speed and nature's own
Were never to meet that night.
Those who heard the last words moan
Will never forget the fright.
A lesson was taught to all who stood,
With their youth fresh and alive.
The meaning is heavy if understood,
And left in the mind to thrive.
Don't waste a day of precious time,
But live your life with a plan and a goal.
Remember the day and the time
But live your lives and be whole.

Ending The Shape Of Things

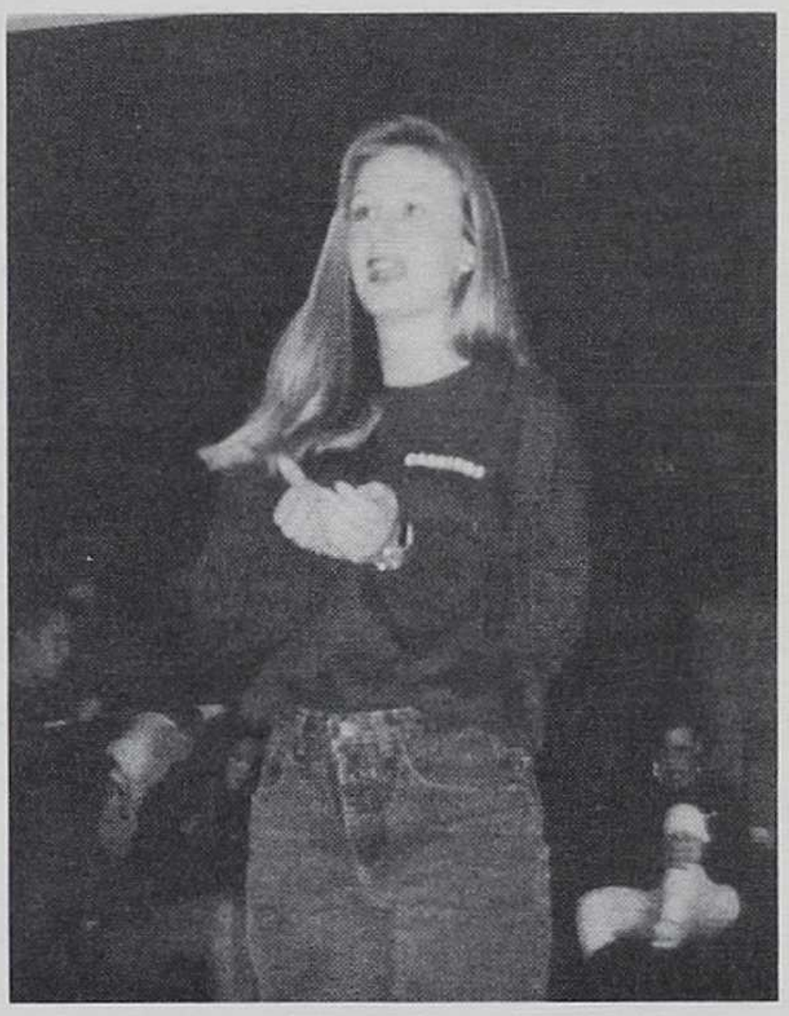

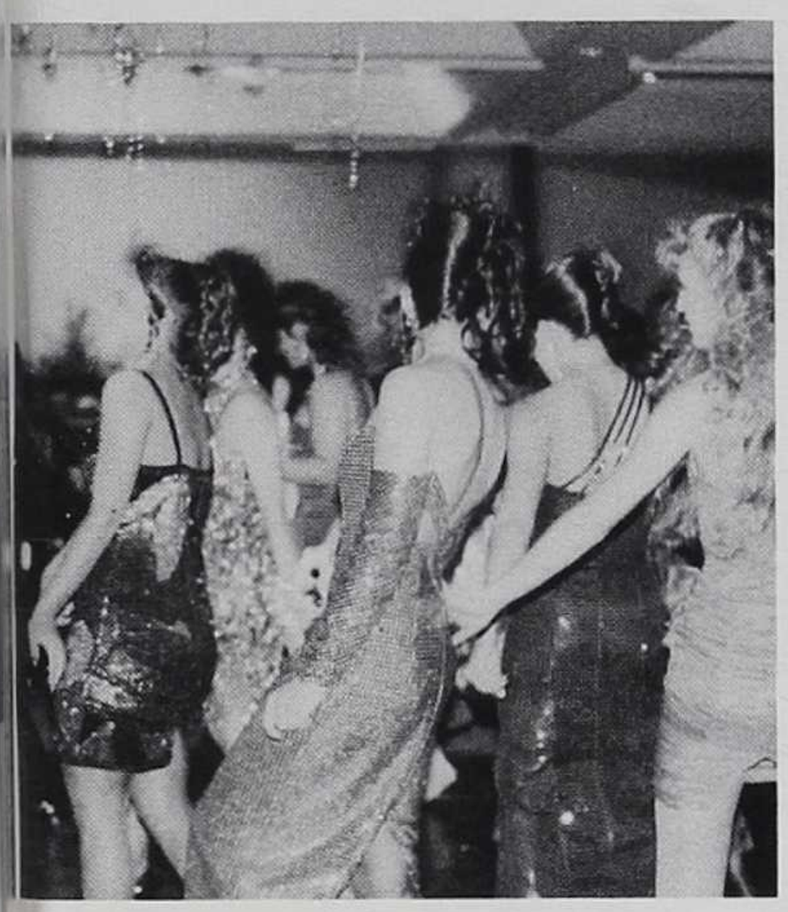

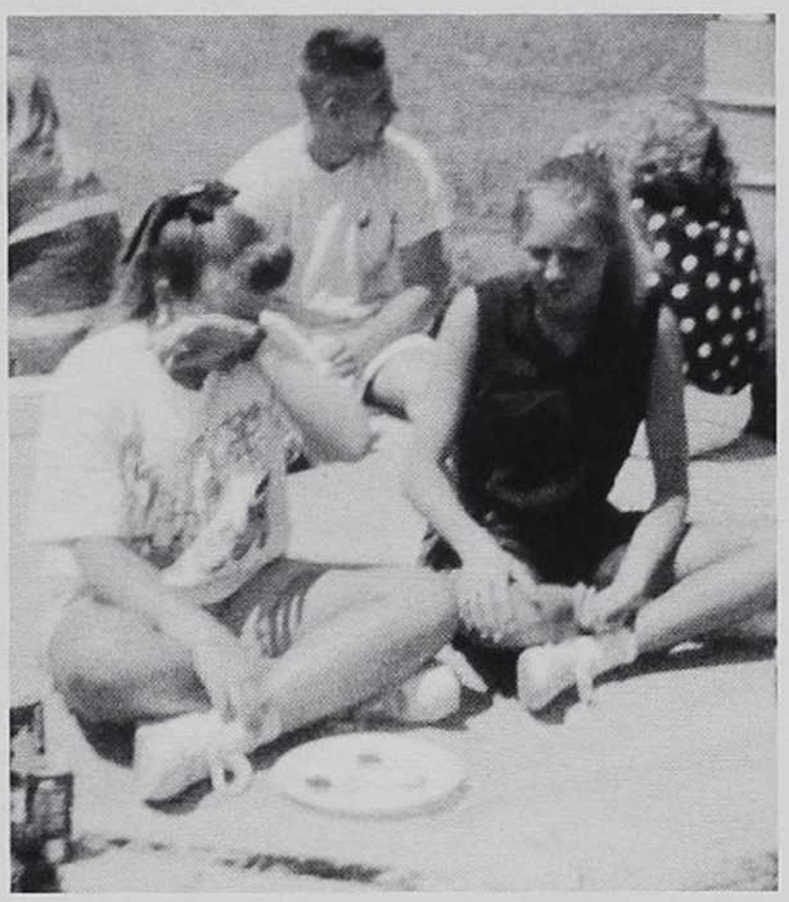

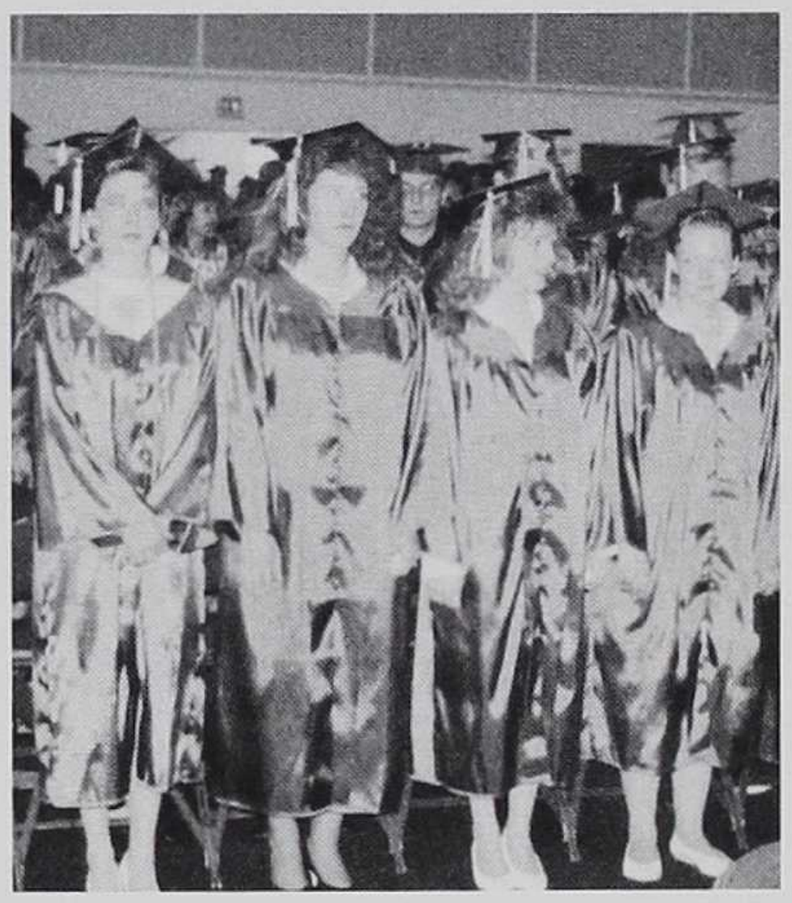

Another year at KHS has gone by, and all in all it was a good one! The football team outdid themselves and pulled through with a winning season. Who could forget Homecoming '92 and the lovely court? Then there was the Sadie Hawkins Pageant and the crowning of beautiful Brandon Knapp. What about Coach Smalley and Mr. Farmer's pie in the face? Perhaps one the biggest highlights at KHS was the play "Carriers" which made national headlines. Prom '93 is a special memory for the seniors since it was for them only. A Senior picnic sponsored by TAFE also brought the seniors together for food and softball one last time. Finally, graduation and the closing of the year. We hope your memories are as special as ours, and we wish you many more special memories to come!

'92-'93 YEAR IN REVIEW

In a quiet moment amongst all the festivities of inauguration week, President-elect Bill Clinton found time to reflect upon the past during a visit to the tomb of former President John F. Kennedy. The next day, during his inauguration speech, he urged Americans to look to the future. (Photo by Sipa Press)

The 1992 Presidential election will probably be best remembered as a season of change — not only because of the transfer of power, but also in the ways the campaigns were conducted.

For the first time in recent memory, a third-party candidate made a serious bid for the presidency. H. Ross Perot captured the imagination of voters with his independent bid, but soon disappointed them when he dropped out of the race in July.

Returning in October, he won many Americans over with his plain talk and television infomercials. Perot gained the necessary signatures to place him on state ballots, and received 19 percent of the popular vote.

Major-party candidates George Bush and Bill Clinton appeared on talk shows and crisscrossed the country making personal appearances to sway the electorate.

Both Barbara Bush and Hillary Clinton were active, often campaigning apart from their husbands.

Even Murphy Brown, inhaling and spelling were part of the hard-fought campaign.

Voters turned out in record numbers, many waiting in line for hours to cast their ballots.

In the end, it was Clinton's combination of small-town roots and broad visions of change that tipped the American public in his favor.

The theme of the Clinton/Gore campaign was "Putting People First," and the Democrats went out on the road to show their commitment. Clinton and running mate Al Gore, along with their wives, made scores of personal appearances, touring the country by bus.

L ELECTION

Former President George Bush won his party's nomination in August, but many saw the Republican Convention as a sign of the strife and division inside the GOP.

Third-party candidate Ross Perot appeared on "Donahue," among other talk shows, to better reach the public. He often used charts and graphs to illustrate his message. Television and radio talk shows, from "Larry King Live" to MTV, played an important part in all three campaigns.

George Bush, modeling his campaign after that of Harry Truman, used a whistle-stop tour to reach voters.

Bill Clinton and Al Gore celebrated their election-night victory in Little Rock, Ark.

When the Elvis stamp was unveiled in June, postal patrons had selected the young King over a more mature Elvis.

OVERKILL
12/1/92–Amy Fisher was sentenced to 5-15 years for shooting the wife of her alleged lover, Joey Buttafuoco. Within two months, all three major television networks had shown movies dramatizing the case.

DIVORCED
9/25/92–Gregory Kingsley, a 12-year-old boy, "divorced" his mother so that he could be adopted by a foster family who had been caring for him.

AMBUSHED
1/25/93–Two CIA employees were killed and three were injured when a gunman opened fire near the entrance of the CIA headquarters in Langley, Va.

This past year saw further proof that the Cold War was over, while other countries flexed their muscles in the latest hot spots. In December, Russian President Boris Yeltsin and former President George Bush agreed to START II, a continuing reduction of nuclear arms by Russia and the U.S.

Three months later, Yeltsin faced serious opposition from conservative hard-liners and the remaining Communists in his government. Although unable to get enough votes for an outright impeachment, the Congress of People's Deputies continued to try to weaken Yeltsin's power.

In August, the U.S. and its Gulf War allies issued an order prohibiting Iraqi planes from flying south of the 32nd parallel. The order, which was enacted to protect Shiites in Southern Iraq, was enforced in December when Iraqi warplanes began to enter the zone. On Jan. 13, the Western allies retaliated in force by bombing Iraqi missile batteries and radar stations.

The British royal family had a year they would like to forget. Princess Anne ended one marriage and started another. After several public indiscretions by the Duchess of York, Sarah Ferguson, Prince Andrew decided they should separate. Prime Minister John Major announced to the House of Commons that Prince Charles and Princess Diana would also separate. As the year came mercifully to an end, a fire in Windsor Castle destroyed the 14th Century St. George's Hall.

Back in the United States, Dr. Jack Kevorkian, the so-called "suicide doctor," raced against time when a Michigan law was passed making assisted suicides illegal. Kevorkian, who had helped 15 terminally ill patients end their lives since 1990, vowed to continue his work until Feb. 25, when the law went into effect.

A religious compound in Waco, Texas, became the scene of a tense standoff when cult leader David Koresh and his followers opened fire on ATF agents who were there investigating a report that weapons were being stockpiled. Four ATF agents were killed and 15 were injured, and a war of nerves ensued as officials waited for Koresh to surrender.

What many called "The Storm of the Century" battered the East Coast in mid-March, dumping rain, sleet and snow from Maine to Florida, killing 219 people.

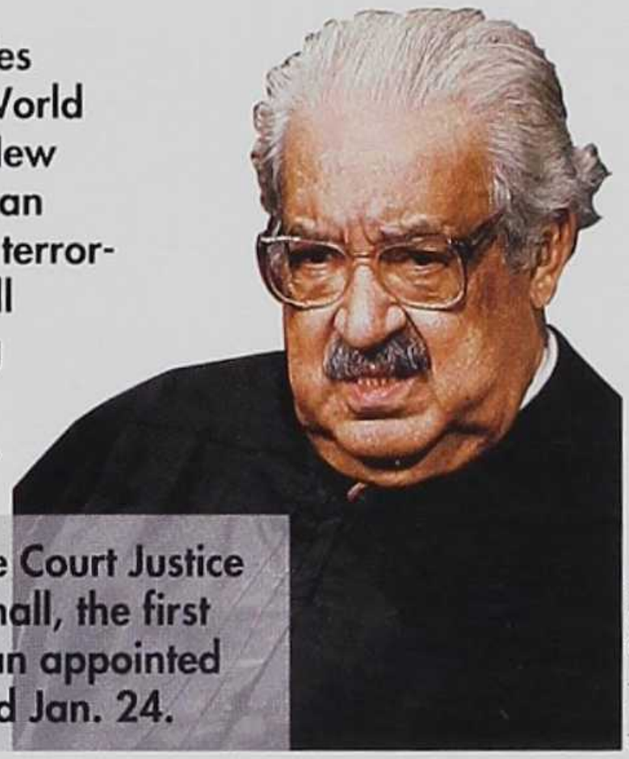

Not only did the American people choose a new president in 1992, they also elected many new faces to Congress. After complaints about governmental gridlock and a check-bouncing scandal, anti-incumbent sentiments were high. A record-setting number of women and minorities were elected, including Carol Moseley Braun of Illinois, the first African-American woman to be elected to the Senate.

U.S. troops were deployed in a non-military action, with the blessing of the United Nations, to the African nation of Somalia in November. Forces served as protection for international aid shipments to help combat the wide-spread starvation. Earlier relief efforts were not successful because warring clans made delivery of food and supplies nearly impossible.

NTERTAINMENT

The 1992-93 school year brought both new and familiar faces into the sports and entertainment spotlight, and also saw the end to some illustrious careers.

New York Yankees owner George Steinbrenner returned to baseball after serving only two and a half years of his "lifetime" ban when the former commissioner, Fay Vincent, pardoned him.

Vincent himself resigned as commissioner in September after several major clashes with the owners.

Bo Jackson returned from what was assumed to be a career-ending hip injury. Picked up on waivers by the Chicago White Sox, Jackson had hip-replacement surgery and made the team during Florida spring training.

Spring training was also the site of tragedy for the Cleveland Indians—on March 20, relief pitcher Steve Olin and backup catcher Tim Crews were killed when the boat they were in crashed into a pier.

The Summer Olympics brought together the NBA's best players for the U.S. basketball team. "The Dream Team" brought home a gold medal and provided a last hurrah for the soon-to-be retired Magic Johnson and Larry Bird, whose bad back forced him out of the game.

Johnson had announced his retirement from basketball in November 1991, then returned in September of the next year. After weeks of controversy during which other players expressed the fear of contracting AIDS from him, he retired for good Nov. 2.

In entertainment news, Woody Allen's relationship with long-time companion Mia Farrow ended amid much publicity, when Farrow accused Riddick Bowe became the new heavyweight champion when he defeated Evander Holyfield in a unanimous decision. However, he was forced to relinquish the WBC title when he did not defend it against Lennox Lewis.

Michael Jackson received a lifetime achievement award at the Grammys, performed at the Super Bowl and Inauguration festivities, and granted Oprah Winfrey a television interview.
